

TeamUP! - A SuperHeroes tale

you will discover the superpowers of your team, and learn how to deal with the villains

What kind of leader are you? You often wonder how to shift your team from "good to best"? And does your HR department, just like you, value human capital as the #1 asset?

If these questions make your face go like 😊. you may continue reading.

TeamUP! is a workshop designed to inspire teams. It's quite an unusual one. It is unique, engaging, unconventional and innovative. Here's why:

playful

You and your team play around a SuperHero narrative that makes each and everyone smile and yet reflect will you free the Golden Child?

tailor-made

The design is drawn around your critical needs, key objectives and your specific company culture & values

empowering

Team members actively participate and are led smoothly into embracing commitment and responsibility

pragmatic

It is performance driven and moves leader and team from awareness into action

short & sweet

It takes 6 hours in total:
2 hours preparation
2 hours classroom workshop
2 hours follow up

What TeamUP! leaves you with:

TeamUP! serves the creation of outstanding teams, habitats where people are motivated to show their passions, talents and characters. A place where the human capital is central, each individual is a proud member and wants to excel.

This workshop shapes the space in which leaders & teams connect. They co-create performance based cultures where everyone collaborates towards a shared vision. A team that works as ONE and that sees different ways of being and working as an asset rather than a problem.

Who is the captain?

Clearly, If you are the cocky chief in command who bosses around in name of better business practices, then ehm ... sorry, we can't help you. You will be on the side of the villains I am afraid.

This workshop is for real leaders, all of you super women and men who incorporate the human factor in strategic visions. If that's you, let's get in touch now!

TeamUP! praise:

"Luca's experience and positivity have been key in the success of our leadership programme."

Andres Cabrera Flamini
Leadership programme manager / Lecturer
IHE Unesco Institute for Water Education

"Choosing TeamUP! for our global Key Account team was just a great idea. We reached our target to connect all account managers in the room and paved the way in becoming the best team in the industry. All of this while having a lot of fun."

Alessandro Cacciola, Director of Global Sales
Dachser International

Luca Grasso is a humanist motivated by a profound ambition: enabling people to operate in social environments permeated by mutual respect, confidence and co-creativity.

Luca has built up extensive managerial experience within small and large enterprises in intercultural leadership roles. He has enhanced the development of top managers as well as fresh grads by tailoring coaching solutions on their unique resources and ambitions. He is particularly experienced in identifying and correcting dysfunctional working models and in cementing durable confidence in his clients.